

| Question |     |  |  | Marking details                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Marks Available |          |          |          |          |          |
|----------|-----|--|--|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------|----------|----------|----------|----------|
|          |     |  |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | AO1             | AO2      | AO3      | Total    | Maths    | Prac     |
| 4.       | (a) |  |  | Any 3 × (1) from:Particles vibrate (1)More or faster (1)collide with neighbours or pass on energy to neighbours (1)Free electrons (1)[free] electrons increase in kinetic energy or move faster (1)Electrons pass on the energy as they move through the lattice or electrons collide with the lattice owtte (1) | 3               |          |          | 3        |          |          |
|          | (b) |  |  | Any 2 × (1) from:Convection [currents] (1)Heated liquid rises [from solar panel] (1)Hot liquids are less dense (1)Accept cold liquids fall (1) and cold liquids are more dense (1)                                                                                                                                                                                        |                 | 2        |          | 2        |          |          |
|          | (c) |  |  | $960 \times 2 = 1920$ (1)$1920$ ( ecf ) $\times \frac{1}{3} = 640$ [J] (1)Alternative:$\frac{960}{3} = 320$ (1)$320$ ecf $\times 2 = 640$ [J] (1)Award 1 mark for answer of 576 [J]                                                                                                                                                             |                 | 2        |          | 2        | 2        |          |
|          |     |  |  | Question 4 total                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 3        | 4 | 0 | 7 | 2 | 0 |